

There is a huge crowd in the police pavilion, which imparts the strength of self-defense and self-confidence to the girls. The police stall has been prepared as part of UC College centenary celebrations. In case of an accidental attack, this stall teaches how to counter-attack using body parts and save yourself. The classes are conducted by trained women police officers.